

GET INVOLVED

The North West Green Arc is a project involving a diversity of people and partners. To protect the right landscapes at the right time over a large geographical area, we need your help.

There are many ways that you or your organization can contribute. Here are just a few:

- Identify lands that you think are important to protect or increase public access to, within the proposed North West Green Arc area.
- Share with us emerging opportunities to increase green space protection through the planning system, or new land purchases.
The more voices we hear on what lands to protect, when, and how, the better able we are to make sound, strategic decisions.
- Sign up as a supporting partner.
Your agency may want to contribute staff time to attending planning meetings, help with fundraising, synchronize land management regimes or other organizational functions to help meet NW Green Arc aims.
- Let us know how we can more effectively link up with other initiatives in health, conservation, and agri-environmental schemes.
- Offer to hold a public information session on the North West Green Arc initiative.
- As a landowner, adopt land management practices that better protect local ecosystems including increasing habitat values and improving air and water quality.
- As a developer, design and build projects that incorporate sustainability principles, including minimizing ecological footprints and considering public access to bordering public lands.
